The project, that you helped make a reality, was to build a rainwater catchment where rainwater is collected off strategic areas of a roof, enters a custom guttering system (which filters out debris) and leads to a storage tank. Water can be stored for months, is easily treated in the tank, and is accessible through taps. These projects are implemented at schools with proper roof lines and gutter systems to make them successful.

Again, thank you. Your contribution has directly improved the day to day lives of over 300 people.
